Introduction

This information leaflet gives an overview of accessible transport in and from Flanders and Brussels. Whether something is considered accessible depends largely on the person concerned. Each disability or impairments is different. We recommend you to contact the transport company in advance in order to obtain concrete information relating to your own expectations.
GENERAL

Navigate and Park
Looking forward to a sunny day at the beach or a trip to Westhoek? But perhaps slightly put-off by the traffic jams and the thought of trying to find somewhere to park?
We can’t do anything about the traffic jams as yet, but finding somewhere to park should be a lot easier using the website www.navigerenparkeer.be (Flemish only). This gives you a handy list of the parking spaces on the coast reserved for people with a disability. You can zoom in on a map or aerial photo for each municipality until you are right over the parking place. You can even see the dimensions and a photo of each place so that you know whether it meets all your requirements. This site also gives you detailed instructions on how to locate the reserved parking places on your GPS device.

For people with visual impairments the entry surface will be fitted with rubber tiles and fitted with a connecting guideline. The most important stops will be supplied with real-time information screens that can also provide auditory information by pressing the button.

Blue Assist
Blue assist is a unique icon, that is recognized internationally. This icon helps people with a limitation to ask help from unknown people (For example bus drivers, other passengers). It is like helping a person with a visual impairment with a white stick. Blue assist exists in the form of a simple blue card, but also as smartphone application. On the smartphone, the recognizable Blue assist symbol emerges when a person with a mental impairment want to ask a question. For example when he or she wants to say when they want to get out of the public transport he or she is in.

METRO

You can request your metro transport from a maximum of 1 day to a minimum of 1 hour prior to your journey. Assistance in the metro is only provided from Monday to Sunday between 0700 and 20:45.

This can be done by either communicating the intended journey by phoning our Contact Centre on +32 (0)70 23 2000 (0.30€/min)(accessible from Monday to Friday from 08:00 to 19:00, and 18:00 during school holidays and Saturdays from 08:00 to 16:00). Alternatively by completing a form via email.

Another option is to use the especially designated phone near the desk. This will result in an assisting officer being sent along as soon as possible.

In any case, support is provided from the desk and for the next part of the journey. The trip can only take place between two stations that offer the necessary facilities. If a change of trains is required, this will happen at the Beekkant station. The price remains the same as for a standard trip and does not incur any extra costs.

For obvious reasons, travel during peak hours is best avoided as much as possible. The number of people using a wheelchair is limited to one per metro carriage section.

Accessible stations can be found on the website via the link:

BUS

Only listed bus lines are made accessible to people using a wheelchair.
- 12 (Brussels City Luxemburg – Brussels Airport)
- 21 (Luxemburg – Brussels Airport)

- 71 (The Brouckère – Delta)
- 84 (Beekkant – Heizel)

See the net plan on http://www.stib.be/Accessibus.html?l=nl to know if a bus stop meets your needs. The accessibility of bus stops is represented by two symbols.

Accessible without help

Accessible with help

At the locations, you will recognise modified bus stops and buses by the blue wheelchair logo. On board of the bus, the level of accessibility for each stop will be shown on real-time information screens.
TaxiBus

TaxiBus is a collective form of public transport, by request and from door-to-door. TaxiBus is only available who have been licensed by the Federal Government Service (Overheidsdienst) (FOD) Social Security (Zekerheid) as people who have a handicap*.

TRAVELLING BY PLANE

Introduction
More and more airline companies and airports around the world provide special facilities for disabled passengers. Since 26 July 2008, all European airports must provide free assistance to passengers with a temporary or permanent disability. You are entitled to assistance from your point of arrival to the aircraft, even for connecting flights. Once you are on board, free assistance must be provided by the airline company. No extras are allowed to be charged for transporting wheelchairs or guide dogs. Guide dogs are allowed in the passenger area.

Refusing people due to a disability or reduced mobility is only possible in two cases:
- if an official law, decree or regulation exists
- if it is technically not possible to bring the passenger on board
In the event of a refusal, this must be justified clearly. In addition, airline companies must make every effort to find an acceptable solution, and if none can be found, they must refund any costs incurred.

The regulation also governs the transport of mobility accessories and compensation in the event of damage to these accessories. Staff are trained in co-operation with the local associations for the disabled.

You, as a passenger, are expected to notify your travel agent or airline company well in advance about what you need. The best time to do this is when you book your ticket so the travel agent can indicate the level of assistance using international codes (an overview can be found on the next page in this brochure). Make sure you arrive on time: 2 hours before departure, unless otherwise agreed. You may be requested to board the aircraft first and leave last. This means you will not be bothered by the other passengers.

In Belgium, this guideline is governed by the Directorate General for 'Aviation'.

Some general tips for plane travellers

- If you need assistance, notify your travel agent, tour operator or airline company well in advance. It is recommended you discuss this when you book your ticket.
- Also mention to your travel agent or the airline that you want to take mobility aids (for example a wheelchair), a guide dog or assistance dog.
- If you take an electric wheelchair, check the battery type. Wheelchairs with dry (gel) batteries generally do not pose any problems. Make sure that you can disconnect the batteries manually. You are not allowed to take spanners in your hand luggage so it’s recommended to loosen the bolts as soon as you arrive at the airport. You can put the spanner in your suitcase before checking in.

- If the wheelchair has wet batteries, some airlines may refuse them; others will require that you rent a special container for the batteries, to prevent leakage. Ask about this in advance.
- Special safety precautions also apply for air and oxygen bottles.
- The ban on fluids and sharp objects in hand luggage also applies for medication and syringes for example. If this is a problem for you, discuss this when booking your ticket and obtain a medical certificate (in English).

Assistance codes
The IATA travel association has a list of codes that makes it easy for you to indicate which kind of assistance you need. It is recommended that you know your own code and state this code when making reservations.

- the “b.light” flights with destination or departure in Europe,
- the “economy” flights with destination or departure in Africa, Tel Aviv, Helsinki or Moscow.

Airports
The main Belgian airports provide information for travellers with a disability. The general principles have been listed. Below you will find the specific arrangements for each airport.

-Antwerp (Antwerp Airport)
We received the following information from their communication department:
- The car park is immediately adjacent to the airport building with reserved parking spaces at the entrance. Access via a ramp.
- Accessible toilet in the check-in zone.
- Travellers who require assistance can phone the airport on +32 (0)3 285 65 20.
- Discuss your request for assistance when you book your ticket so the airport is informed on time.

-Charleroi-Gosselies (Brussels South Airport)
Arrangements for passengers with a disability can be found at http://www.charleroi-airport.com/nl/passagiers/prm/index.html. On the left of the page, click “Informations PMR” to display a page with more detailed information. The information is only available in French. These are the main points:
- Notify the airport, your travel agent or the airline when you book your flight (at least 48 hours before departure) about your request for assistance. Provide all the necessary information.
- Make sure you are at the airport 2 hours in advance (during the summer, it is recommended you arrive 3 hours in advance), and at the agreed meeting point, or at the information kiosk opposite the information counter in the departure hall. Report that you have arrived by pressing the button (on kiosk) or by phoning +32 (0)71 251 211. Keep your reservation number handy.
- If you come by car and you are the driver, park the car in the Express Parking. If another person can drive, it is better to get out in the drop-off zone (dépose-minute).
The website also provides a form for requesting assistance and an overview of the distances and times for moving around between various locations in the airport. You can also see some photos of the situation in the airport.

You can download the quality standards of the airport (in French) at:

- Liège (Liège Airport)
An introduction is available at www.liegeairport.com/nl/begeleiding.
Specific examples of services provided for passengers with a disability:

- In the car park and at the information desk there are contact points where the passenger can request assistance upon arrival.
- The assistance service arranges, among other things, transportation to the check-in counter, helps with checking in luggage and guidance to the gate. If necessary, you can be brought to your seat in the aircraft.
- In the airport there are lifts and wheelchairs provided. Lowered pavements, adapted toilets and signposting also ensure better accessibility.
- On arrival there is, among other things, help with collecting your luggage. Assistance is also available for passengers changing flights in Liege.

- Ostend-Bruges (Ostend Airport)
An overview of the service for passengers with reduced mobility is available on www.ost.aero. Click English > Passenger > Practical information > PRM reduced mobility.
Specifics:

- Parking spaces
Persons with reduced mobility who travel to the airport in their own vehicle can leave their vehicle behind in the passenger car park immediately opposite the passenger building, for the duration of their trip or stay in the airport building. Spaces are provided specially for these visitors and these spaces are indicated with the official symbol for persons with reduced mobility. These spaces are located near the exit of the car park. Vehicles parked in these spaces must display the official disabled permit.
- Automatic doors - lift
The entrances to the passenger building open automatically and are wide enough to ensure that wheelchair users can enter the passenger building easily. The lift in the passenger building takes you to the 1st floor where you can take a smaller lift to access the Belair restaurant.
An additional document with information is available on the website.

- Zaventem (Brussels Airport)
Information for travellers with a disability can be found at www.brusselsairport.be > Passengers > Facilities > Reduced mobility.

- People with reduced mobility can use lifts, escalators, moving walkways and wide doorways to move about comfortably.
- Throughout the airport building, facilities for the disabled are clearly indicated. The standard international symbols are used.
• The entrances to the terminals open automatically and are wide enough to ensure that wheelchair users can easily reach the gates. Doors are marked with contrasting strips to make them more visible for the visually impaired.

• Lifts, escalators, moving walkways and slopes provide easy access to all levels in the airport for passengers with reduced mobility.

• The passenger lifts are spacious and suitable for wheelchair users.

• People with reduced mobility who are accompanied can also borrow a wheelchair at Brussels Airport. If you have a companion to push the wheelchair you can enjoy shopping or have something to eat or drink in the airport before your departure. The wheelchair can be left at the gate when it is time for the departure. When you arrive at Brussels Airport, several locations along the piers are provided where you can use a wheelchair to proceed to the exit.

• Passengers with reduced mobility who travel alone can obtain special assistance for moving around the airport. This service is provided by Axxicom Airport Caddy who ensure that the passenger in a wheelchair is brought to the gate. This service must be requested in advance through the airline (or your travel agent). They can also be contacted directly by calling: +32 (0)2 753 22 12 51 – or e-mail: info@airportcaddy.be, website: www.airportcaddy.be

• If you bring and use your own collapsible or powered wheelchair you are requested to inform the travel agent or airline. Also ask them about special rules or arrangements that may apply. This is also the case for the destination airport.

• Parking: Car drivers dropping off or picking up passengers with reduced mobility to and from the airport, can park their vehicle near the airport building. The exact location is: the parking lane near entrance A of the arrival hall and the departure hall. The vehicle must, however, display the official disabled permit. Disabled people who travel to the airport in their own car can leave their vehicle in the regular car parks for the duration of their trip. Reserved parking spaces are provided in these passenger car parks. These spaces are located as near as possible to the exits of the car parks. To park in these spaces, the vehicle must also display the official disabled permit.

• As a general rule, dogs are not allowed in the airport terminal building, however, assistance dogs are welcome at Brussels Airport.
