VISITFLANDERS
Flanders is cycling. 365 days.

http://cyclinginflanders.cc
“Flanders. Nowhere else is the gap between epic and ordinary, mortal and hero, dream and reality closer than these 5,000 square miles of north Belgium. All of the things that make cycling great reach a crescendo in Flanders. The legendary Flemish riders, called ‘Flandriens’, look more like you and me, winning with grit and endurance, not exact calculations of watts per kilo. The roads are winding, narrow and brutal, broken stones from a bygone era, vanquished in three- and four-minute bouts of suffering, not hour-long exercises in balancing on your anaerobic threshold. The races themselves, such as the Ronde or Gent-Wevelgem are as much a part of the landscape as the farmer’s fields and ancient villages they crisscross. Bicycles are cutting edge craftsmanship in Flanders.

For hard-core cycling enthusiasts, a trip to Flanders is nothing less than a pilgrimage to the most hallowed grounds in the sport. Ride on the roads where natives like Eddy Merckx, Johan Museeuw and Tom Boonen became legends.” *

This brochure offers an overview of all you need to know about Flanders as an all year round cycling destination par excellence. Simply flick through the pages and be inspired.

X-cycling has two luxurious motorhomes. The bigger can host 6 people, the smaller is for 4 people. The motorhomes can transport bikes. X-cycling wants to reach clients who want a full ‘cycling experience’ for a couple of days. Mostly clients cycle a classic route on the day before the professionals do so. On the next day, they watch the race live (with the camper parked at a place where a race passes). Clients can combine this with more cycling or sightseeing on a couple of extra days. Programmes are flexible the cycling can be challenging or recreational—all and upon demand.

Kortweg Cycling and Flamme Rouge

also offer bike transport. Their contact details are mentioned above.
COACHES WITH BIKE TRAILERS

There are a lot of coach companies who have luggage trailers, but few who have special bike trailers. These special bike trailers typically can contain 28, 36, 40 or even 44 bikes (any type of bike: racing bikes, MTB, city bikes, ...). Note that the website of these coach operators is mostly only in Dutch. But they certainly can be contacted from abroad (in English or French).

BICYCLE-FRIENDLY PLACES TO STAY

Contemplating an overnight stay in Flanders? There are dozens of options available from hotels to guest lodges and holiday houses. Via www.visitflanders.com you can search for accommodation with facilities adapted to meet the needs of cyclists. The prices quoted are per person sharing a two-person room with breakfast. Prices are subject to change at any time. Please consult the websites directly for the most up-to-date information.

The 23 Flemish hostels are also a good choice for cyclists. All hostels have their own style and atmosphere. They have something for everyone, whether you want to cycle, relax and enjoy nature, get cultural in the city or get a breath of fresh air at the coast. On your own, with some friends or in a larger group, just go and be surprised by the wonders of Flanders and our budget-friendly hostels. You’ll find all the information you need on www.jeugdherbergen.be/en/.

Looking for accommodations that breathe cycling, are beautifully located in ‘cycling territory’ or host pro-teams almost every year? Check out our tips per region in this brochure.

ROUTE PLANNING TOOLS

It’s best to choose a route that’s suited to you before you leave.

The easiest tool to search for routes (or create your own), is the www.routeyou.com website. You can search routes specifically suited for road racing, with a lot of climbs in them, etc.

Looking for loop routes created by other cyclists? Than be sure to check www.fietsroute.org. On this website you will find detailed descriptions of bike routes in Flanders, as well as points of interest along routes of other regions. These rides are grouped by city and route. Most of them include a description and a detailed itinerary. Flanders is a bike lover’s dream with hundreds of well signposted cycling routes. The website also enables you to create your own route using the junction points of the Flanders cycling network.

You can also make your own route via www.fietsnet.be (available in Dutch, but easy to use). You will find all the numbered junction points of the Flanders cycling network online here. Simply click your choice of junction points and create your own loop. You can print your route afterwards, just write down the numbers or export it to your GPS. Easy as that!

And then there’s also the FietsKompas app (in Dutch), which enables you to create your route using the junction points of the Flanders cycling network. The app then functions as a GPS device and also has voice instructions. Also nice: the possibility to find bike friendly pubs along your route. Available for iPhone and soon also for Android.

Of course, also www.strava.com can help you out with routes.

In this brochure, we also mention specific routes per region. Be sure to check them out too!
FLANDERS: AN ACCESSIBLE CYCLING DESTINATION

Flanders wants to be an enjoyable cycling destination for everyone young and slightly older visitors, tourists with or without disabilities or care needs, etc. Therefore, we are happy to help you if you have additional needs or questions when planning a trip to Flanders.

You will find a great deal of information on the website www.visitflanders.com/accessibility to prepare your holiday or trip according to your specific needs and requirements. You can search for a holiday accommodation, day trips, places where you can get a bite to eat or have a drink, rental of adapted bikes, suitable routes, events and so much more. Additionally, you can find information on arranging suitable transportation, care or equipment.

If you have specific questions, feel free to contact us through accessible@visitflanders.com or +32 2 504 03 40.

CYCLING AND BEER

In a region famous for its beers and its cycling culture, it should not come as a surprise that there are quite some cycling beers. Cycling and drinking beer: a difficult combination? Maybe, but somehow they go together very well in Flanders.

Sportive cyclists often finish their cycling tour with a (couple of) beer(s) – if they didn’t interrupt their tour for this already, preferably on a sunny terrace. Flemish people love the stories about the cyclists in the good old days, mixing a raw egg in their Rodenbach (a traditional sour red ale), as an ideal breakfast before the race. Some breweries actively support cyclo’s (for example the Roman brewery sponsors the Ename Classic, which is named after their famous abbey beer). Several beers are named after a famous slope or have a name that’s related to cycling in another way: Giesbaarg Muurken (local dialect for ‘Muur van Geraardsbergen’), Kwaremont, Orvélo, Malteni, Koerseklakske (cycling cap), De Bie Vélo, Kasseileggersbier (men who construct cobblestone roads), …

Cycling and beer culture have always been closely related in Flanders, and without any doubt they will always be!

Quench your thirst with these beers in one of the many cycling pubs mentioned below in this brochure. For more information on Belgian beers in Flanders, visit the www.visitflanders.com website (Themes > Belgian beers) or ask for our trade brochure on beer.

You will also be notified by email of great promotions, new events and news about hot cyclespots.
PER REGION

Flanders has a lot to offer. Whether you want to watch a race, join a cyclo, visit a cycling museum, ride one of the specific routes, have a pre ride coffee or post ride beer, rent a race bike, stay in a cycling accommodation or go to a stylish cycling shop. There are loads of possibilities that cater for your cycling needs. In the next chapters, we give you an overview of all this cycling wealth by region.

For as long as anyone can remember, the Flemish Ardennes has formed the backdrop for an untold number of road races that have inspired both pros and amateurs to push their abilities to the limit. The region plays host to both individual races and stages in multi-day races that are drawn to the Flemish Ardennes for its cobblestones and hills. Whether you’re planning to race yourself or just come and admire the spectacle, you’ll find more than enough inspiration in this list of events:

February

Omloop Het Nieuwsblad
www.omloophetnieuwsblad.be Omloop Het Nieuwsblad is the opening race of the Spring Classics. Racers and racing fans have been eagerly looking forward to this day for months. Contestants will be twisting and turning through the Flemish Ardennes, bumping over cobblestones and fighting the wind. The race is now part of the UCI World Tour calendar. Combine with Kuurne-Brussel-Kuurne to have the perfect opening weekend.

The Six-days of Ghent
’t Kuipke, Citadelpark, 9000 Ghent
www.z6sdaagse.be
Cycling enthusiasts are undoubtedly familiar with ’t Kuipke. This cycling track hosts the yearly Six Days of Ghent, a world-famous track cycling event. This is Flanders’ point of reference in the change from autumn to winter. Following good traditions, over 40,000 spectators will attend this show. The six days is ridden on a covered track, with teams of two cyclists. The duo that has ridden the most rounds after six days and/or has scored the most points in the various auxiliary competitions wins.
The Tour of Flanders Centre is in more than one way the ideal base camp for your Tour of Flanders. You will not only find a wealth of history about the race at the visitors’ centre but also a wealth of comfortable and convenient facilities to start and finish your own tour of the Flemish Ardennes. There is free parking available around the corner (at the Ham, near Hotel Leopold). If you’re thinking of riding one of the three Tour of Flanders routes or the Spartacus or Bahamontes routes (more information below), be sure to ask to borrow a free chip to register your time. You’ll be able to measure your time up the Koppenberg, Kruisberg and the Muur as well as along Paddestraat.

A handy self-scan system makes it even easier to register the chip. After your ride, you can enjoy a shower at the TOFC (2 euros) and the Ronde Shop offers several must-see and must-have souvenirs. And to cap off a perfect day, try a delicious locally brewed beer at the Brasserie De Flandrien. The TOFC is open every day except Monday, from 10am to 6pm.

‘t Kuipke
Citadelpark, 9000 Ghent
https://visit.gent.be/en/t-kuipke
www.z6sdaagse.be
Cycling enthusiasts are undoubtedly familiar with ‘t Kuipke. This cycling track hosts the yearly Six Days of Ghent, a world-famous track cycling event. With a length of 166 metres, ‘t Kuipke is one of the shortest cycling tracks in the Six Days circuit. This means that you as a spectator can see the entire track. At 52%, the bends are exceptionally sharp, which means that Ghent also has one of the fastest tracks in Europe. ‘t Kuipke is only open to visit during events.

Everyone is welcome on the hardwood, 250-metre long cycling track in Ghent’s Blaarmeersen Sports and Recreation Park. The track is also open to amateur cyclists and starters for a couple of hours every weekday. A day pass costs 7.50 euros. You can rent a track bike on site, which costs 8.50 euros.
VISIT SOME CYCLING MONUMENTS

Anyone who travels along Flemish roads is bound to come across cycle racing monuments! The sculptures pay tribute to the ‘monuments’ from Flemish cycle racing history - both cycle racers and races alike.

In the Ronde van Vlaanderenstraat in Kwaremont you can greet Karel Van Wijnendaele, founder of the Tour of Flanders. A mosaic of cobblestones has been laid out on the ground in front of the monument, featuring images of all the winners of the Tour of Flanders to date. The Ronde van Vlaanderenstraat now also has a pantheon of 10 life-size photo panels that portray mythical heroes of the Tour. The Tour’s honour roll, from 1913 until 2015, has been painted on the road surface all down the street.

One of the finest monuments is without a doubt located right next door to the church in the East Flanders village of Meerbeke, near Ninove. For thirty nine years this was the finish line for the Tour of Flanders. At the corner of the churchyard stands a beautiful ensemble of statues and a poem by Willie Verhegghe that recalls the day: “White and watchful, the finish line waits expectantly for what is to come (...) And the people look intently on and shout out the names of their gods (...) The triumphant one emerges from a snarl of wheels to forever claim his place in the hall of fame.”

On the roundabout in Brakel (N48 and N8) there is a striking construction of brightly-coloured bicycles suspended in a cylindrical structure.

On the village square in Ruien, a sub-municipality of Kluisbergen, to the right of the church there is a small monument in honour of Eddy Merckx, who won his final victory there in 1977. In Sint-Martens-Lierde (Kwaadstraat) they pay tribute to Emiel Faingnaert, winner of the Tour of Flanders in 1947. At the beginning of the Paddestraat in Velzeke there is a monument featuring a cobblestone and the metal corner profiles bear the names of the winners of the Ronde since 1973, the year that the Tour of Flanders passed over the illustrious cobblestones for the very first time.

In Wetteren, where the Ronde’s finish line was also located for a number of years, you can find ‘a monument to a monument’. ‘De Coureur’ at the Zeshoek (Kerkstraat) pays homage to Achiel Buyssse, who won the Ronde three times (1940, 1941 and 1943). Cycling heroes are also honoured in other East Flanders regions besides the Flemish Ardennes. For example, there is a memorial to Noël Foré at the municipal swimming pool (Oostveldstraat) in Eeklo. With his list of achievements, including the Tour of Flanders, Ghent-Wevelgem, Paris-Roubaix and Kuurne-Brussels-Kuurne, he was a typical cobblestone racer. Two Ronde winners are also honoured with a monument. In Lovendegem (Oostveldkouter) a plaque commemorates Maurice De Waele’s victorious Tour of Flanders in 1929. At the church in the village of Wontergem where he was born there is a fine bronze sculpture that refers to Lucien Buisse, winner of the Tour de France in 1926.

Lastly in De Klinge, almost on the Dutch border, a small square was recently rechristened the Gebroeders De Loorplein, after the cycle racers Alfons and Gustaaf De Loor, who grew up there. Gustaaf De Loor went down in history as the winner of the very first Tour of Spain or Vuelta in 1935. The following year he won again and his brother Alfons finished in second place. To this day we have yet to see a repeat of two brothers occupying the top two positions on the podium.
RIDE ONE OF THE SPECIFIC ROUTES

Tour of Flanders cycling routes
Want to test if you have what it takes to be a die-hard cyclist or interested in exploring the Tour route? The Tour of Flanders Route will take you on a tour of the most legendary hills and cobbled sections. Tourism East-Flanders has combined three cycling loops in one unique Tour of Flanders map, with loads of information, facts and statistics about the route of the Tour. All the information you need is here: www.liveyourowntour.com

Bergs and cobbles
Meet ‘Bergs and Cobbles’, a tourist guide, full of practical information with four varied routes in the Flemish Ardennes. This guide is specifically designed for four different types of cyclists: the athlete, the gourmand, the culture lover and Tour fanatic. The routes range from 42 to 181 kilometres. Not coincidentally was the longest route named the ‘Spartacus Route’, a loop with 8 cobbles, 18 slopes and 2029 meters of climbing. The numbers on the cycling network of the 4 routes are included on a sticker, so you don’t have to take the pocket with you on your trip. Apart from new cycling routes, the pocket also provides a complete overview of bicycle-friendly accommodation, cycling cafés and sporting events in the Flemish Ardennes. Check it out: www.liveyourowntour.com

On the wheel of Lucien Van Impe
The summer of ’76 was Lucien Van Impe’s summer. That year, cycling-mad Flanders was absolutely rapturous when Lucien Van Impe won the Tour de France. Find out why Lucien loves the region around Aalst so much and follow this cycling legend for 35 km. See where he trains and discover his favourite spots en route. And don’t forget to drink a Saison de Lucien beer afterwards! www.routeyou.com

Create your own route
It’s best to choose a route that’s suited to you before you leave. You can always make your own route via www.tov.be/fietsrouteplanner. You will find all the numbered junction points of the East-Flanders cycling network online here. Simply click your choice of junction points and create your own loop. You can print your route afterwards, either as a map, or as a list of junction point numbers.

Other loop routes
In addition to the above routes, Tourism East-Flanders also has a number of brochures available on both pro and recreational cycling in the Flemish Ardennes. All routes in these brochures are loop routes. Some follow the cycling network, others deviate from it but they are all marked with the rectangular green and white signs of the cycling network, hexagonal red and white signs or the rectangular Tour of Flanders route markers. For more information, visit the tourist office at any major town or city in East-Flanders or take a look at: www.liveyourowntour.com

Lozer Lodge can accommodate small and/or large groups. The entire site, in the quiet countryside, covers a surface area of 6,000 square metres and has two holiday cottages, Lozerhof (10 guests) and Lozerdorp (25 guests). Lozer Lodge also has a rustic, multi-purpose space called Lozer Lounge for all kinds of activities and events. There is a covered barn on the estate, where you can BBQ in winter and are protected from the elements during a game of pétanque. The site also has a lockable bicycle shed and an area where you can hose down your bicycle. The wonderful heated pool and pool house is also a great place to while away the time.

ENJOY A PRE-RIDE COFFEE, POST-RIDE BEER OR GREAT MEAL

The Flemish Ardennes is almost as famous for its cafés as it is for its cycling. They are not only spread across the many hills and valleys (and thus a very convenient stop on the way) but are also often frequented by former riders. In any case, they are the ideal location to snap up some cycling trivia, anecdotes or stories. The following list contains cafés whose publicans won’t mind you washing off the chain grease from your hands, where you won’t get funny looks because your legs are covered in balsam and above all, where the racing history is dripping from the walls. They are, in other words, the ideal place to raise your glass to good times and good companions, both on and off the road.

Remember to visit Flanders Cycling.

Flanders is a great place to experience cycling races in a unique way, especially in West Flanders, a real nirvana for cycling fans. Every hill in West Flanders is steeped in cycling history, every village square has immortalised its local cycling great in stone or bronze, and the authentic landscape is a dream for every cycling fanatic. But the place truly comes alive every spring, when West Flanders goes into one big cycling frenzy. For two whole months, visitors can experience all the excitement in the village cafés, cyclist-friendly accommodation, on market squares and along the roads and country lanes of Flanders. Would you like to immerse yourself in the heroism and folklore of the legendary Flandriens? Then be sure to come to West Flanders between February and April for the ultimate cycling weekend! At www.flanders-cycling.be you will find all the information you need to make your stay one to remember. Have fun!

Cycling brand founded by a young man who combined his marketing study with amateur racing. Aims at the high end market with very much attention to design, quality, customer service and performance for the demanding (or well off) cyclist. Thomas Nichelson has designed specific models, all starting from a functional priority (e.g. should it be good on cobbles, on fast tracks, in the mountains). It’s a young brand, trying to find its place between all the big names. Frames are made in Taiwan and assembled in Belgium.

Vintage and nostalgic bicycles, handmade and cycling around since 1946.

West Flanders has played a pioneering role in the rich Flemish cycle racing scene. At the beginning of the 20th century, Cyriel Van Hauwaert brought the whole country under the spell of the bicycle with his great performances in the international classics. Another celebrity from West Flanders, Odiel Defraeye, was the first Fleming to win the Tour de France. A statue of each of them has been erected in their birthplaces of Moorslede and Rumbekoe respectively.

Karel Van Wijndaele was born in Torhout. He was one of the founders of modern reporting on cycle races and co-founder of the Tour of Flanders. There is a memorial plate to this legendary figure on the ‘Burg’, where he lived for many years. Karel Van Wijndaele found his inspiration for the Tour of Flanders in Koolskamp, where the Championship of Flanders had been contested every year since 1908. You will find a memorial on the village square in honour of this historic race.

In Waregem, between the town hall and the De Schakel cultural centre, there stands a special bronze sculpture – ‘De Sprint’ – that was erected to commemorate the start of a stage of the Tour in 2007, but it also serves as a memorial of the world championship that took place in 1957 and that was won by Rik Van Steenbergen.
At the church in Bellegem, a handsome sculpture serves as a memorial to Germain Derycke, who won the Tour of Flanders in 1958. As for Henri Vanlerberghe, the 1919 winner of the Tour of Flanders with the biggest lead ever recorded, there hangs a plaque of him in Lichtervelde, his birthplace. Henri Vanlerberghe was one of the many ‘Flandriens’ from West Flanders. You will come across an ode to these Flandriens both on the market square of Ichtgem and next to the church in Kanegem, where a racer sits hunched over his bicycle riding over the cobblestones. Alberic ‘Briek’ Schotte modelled for the stunning statue of Jef Claerbout. Another statue of the two-times world champion himself as well as a big canvas measuring 6 x 4 metres with his photo can be found in Desselgem. Other world champions from West Flanders who have been immortalised are Freddy Maertens in Lombardsijde and Marcel Kint in Kortrijk and Zwevegem. West Flanders has also had some legendary Tour racers. A monument was erected in Zerkegem, the birthplace of Romain Mass, 1935 winner of the Tour. Jef Demuysere put in a stunning performance in the Giro and a statue was erected of him in Wervik, as was one for Tour hero Jef Planckaert in Otegem.

RIDE ONE OF THE SPECIFIC ROUTES

Hellingenroute Heuvelland
You can choose between three routes. The longest one tackles 40 hills (the Kemmelberg is the most famous one), over a total distance of 116 kms and makes you climb 1498 m.
www.debergen.be (only in Dutch)

West-Vlaamse Bergenroute
Cyclists will puff and pant their way up Heuvelland’s ancient chain of hills, which have played such a prominent role in the region’s history and still dominate its landscape. In addition to the famous Kemmelberg (Kemmel Hill) and Rodeberg (Red Hill), the route also takes in Mesen (Messines), a small town situated right on the Belgian language frontier (with French-speaking Wallonia), as well as the Palingbeek provincial domain. More information on: www.routeyou.com (only available in Dutch)

Freddy Maertens route
Freddy Maertens is a former cyclist who became world champion in 1976 and 1981, won the green jersey in the Tour de France 3 times and won 28 stages in the Tour and Vuelta. More than enough reasons to name this cycling route after him. The 42 km long route takes you along the coastline and the quiet landscapes behind it. More information (in Dutch):
www.fietsroute.org/fietsen/fietsroute/freddy-maertensroute or www.routeyou.com

Michel Pollentier route
Michel Pollentier is a former professional rider. Among the highlights of his career where his overall win in the 1977 Giro d’Italia and his win in the 1980s edition of the Ronde van Vlaanderen. The 62 km route starts in his birth town Diksmuide and takes you to the coast.

http://de-engel.tumblr.com/
Frans Dewilde and Rosa Maeckelbergh are the third generation in this family business. The building dates from 1786 and eradiates nostalgia. The interior of the restaurant is largely dominated by ‘flandrien’ Jules Vanhevel, Rosa’s uncle. Jules Vanhevel won the Tour of Flanders (1920), Paris- Roubaix (1924) and the Tour of Belgium (1928). The restaurant was recently rewarded with a 13/20 in the Gault & Millau restaurant guide.

Eernegem has a reputation as the village of ‘kasseileggers’ (men who construct cobblestone roads). Different members of the same family often shared this profession. Café De Buuzestove is a rustic pub where time seems to have stood still. It’s also a restaurant. They have their own house beer (Kasseileggersbier). There are still a few active ‘kasseileggers’ and they’re willing to talk about their job.

Marcel Kint is to date the longest-reigning world champion ever. The Black Eagle from Zwevegem wore the rainbow jersey in 1939 and because of the outbreak of war, he had to wait until 1946 before a next world championship was coming – which he won. After his career he starts a company bicycles and bicycle parts. Today his grandson Marniek Kint and his wife Lien Baguette maintain the family tradition, in the original home of the former world champion.

info@svennyscyclingcenter.be www.svennyscyclingcenter.be
There’s only one place to go for offroad cycling fans: the Sven Nys Cycling Center! The centre’s main attraction is its experience centre. Beneath the championship jerseys you walk from one historic cycling event to another victory. Check out the camper where the cyclo-cross racers prepare for a race. See how far you can get with your bicycle in the sand pit. Match the right tyre profile to the right road surface. And after all the hard work, you can relax with a drink or a snack on the terrace of Velo café.

But the real work starts around the Experience Centre, on the flanks of the Balenberg. Try the famed cyclo-cross circuit of the GP Sven Nys or test the BMX freestyle or trial circuit.

Eddy Merckx Cycles

info@eddymerckx.com
www.eddymerckx.com
The Eddy Merckx Company was established in 1980 with a mission to produce the finest cycles in the world, and that goal hasn’t changed a bit. Of course, Eddy is still at the heart of the company, and his eye for detail and quality strives each of us to yet higher standards. He is an integral part of the design process, and always tests each new model himself. Eddy Merckx was, in our opinion, the greatest cyclist of the 20th century. We feel it is our duty to keep the flame of that legacy alive by producing legendary cycles fit for today’s demanding cyclist.
VISIT SOME CYCLING MONUMENTS

One name especially marked the cycling history of Brussels and Flemish Brabant: Eddy Merckx. Two statues have been erected in his honour: one in Tieltsestraat in Meensel right across his birth house in Meensel-Kiezegem, and the other near the city hall in Wolvertem.

Just scan the panels along the way and we will immerse you in the experience on: www.inhetwielvaneddymerckx.be

The Hageland Eddy Merckx loop

Starts from Boerenhof cycling café near the church in Meensel (Binkomstraat 12, 3391 Meensel-Kiezegem) and takes you along the same roads where a young Eddy Merckx trained for the first time. This 30-km recreational route follows the nodes of the Flemish Brabant cycle network. This 70-km sporty route has its own signposts. Be prepared for a few challenging slopes. We think a break now and then will be more than welcome, especially if you can see some amazing sights along the way. www.toerismevlaamsbrabant.be/fietsen/fietsproducten/hagelandse-eddy-merckxroute

Sven Nys Cycling Route

The Hageland hills, which are lined with rows and rows of vines and fruit trees, provide a stunning rural backdrop for your ride. But the steep hills also make for a gruelling trek requiring you to stand up on your pedals. Just ask Sven Nys, who criss-crossed through the Hageland from his Balenberg during his many training sessions. This sporty route starts from the Sven Nys Cycling Center. Sven Nys himself mapped out this 93-kilometre loop, which follows his favourite training route. A challenging ride, with a few beauty spots en route to take a break. www.sport.be/svennyscyclingcenter/nl/fietsen (Dutch)

www.pelotondeparis.cc

Peloton de Paris combines a bar and a bicycle shop with a bicycle repair shop. Delicious coffee, beer, bicycles, and watching races on a big screen. They have it all! This concept store attracts cyclists for a minor repair, major maintenance or just a cold beer and a spring classic. Small repairs are performed while waiting for a drink, but they are also up for some larger repairs or teaching you how to maintain your bike yourself. In the bar, everyone is welcome, whether you share the bicycle passion or not. It is a unique concept in Mechelen. The menu offers some tasty snacks or breakfast at weekends. You can also relax in the sunny garden!

Cool bar with its own cycling club, lots of beers on the menu and races live on screen.
The Antwerp Kempen region is a cyclo cross hotspot, so it’s no big surprise that a lot of pubs are the home of fan clubs of (former) cyclo cross pro cyclists. Here’s some of them:

info@velodome.cc
Velo Dome is located in the old stables of brewery De Koninck (which is just across the street, ideal for a visit). A unique setting. With the focus on the better racing bicycles and mountain bikes, such as the Belgian Ridley and handmade Condor Cycles. If you’re hungry or thirsty, then you’ll find a fine pub and restaurant here too: De Pelgrim.

Circuit Zolder
Terlaemen 30, 3550 Heusden-Zolder
+32 11 85 88 88

Besides a renowned F1 circuit, the Circuit of Zolder has also been a cycling temple for years, hosting big races such as the Belgian Championships road cycling in 1963, the World Championships road cycling in 1969 and 2002 and the arrival of the Tour de France in 1981. Several world cups and world championships in cyclo cross also took place around the circuit. Today, the circuit also houses the Flemish Cycling School and UCI BMX track. Wednesday and Thursday evening between 18:15 and 21:30, cyclists can have a safe training on the illuminated circuit. The Pro Tour cycling teams like to test teams and material at the legendary tarmac of the Terlaemen track.

Flanders Bike Valley
Tervantstraat 2b, 3583 Paal
+32 472 62 05 66
www.flandersbikevalley.be

Flanders’ Bike Valley was established in 2013 as one of the first bottom-up clusters in Flanders. As an Open Innovation Centre for the Cycling Industry the cluster was founded by BioRacer (a cycling clothes manufacturer), Lazer Sport (helmets), Ridley Race Productions, Voxdale (a specialist in aerodynamics who engineered and designed for Indycar) and Flanders’ Drive (a knowledge centre for the Automotive Industry). Flanders’ Bike Valley organises partner matching events (often together with other clusters/valleys), is setting-up breakthrough open innovation projects for multiple partners and will also focus on joint internationalisation and incubation in cooperation with BikeVille Incubator. The Flanders’ Bike Valley wind tunnel is a unique, independent, low speed wind tunnel designed specifically for cyclists and the cycling industry, where aerodynamic drag and turbulence can be measured for manufacturers, product developers, and athletes. You will also find the EdiVero topsportrestaurant here (www.ediverotopsportrestaurant.be).

Ridley Bikes
Beverlosesteenweg 85, 3583 Beringen info@ridley-bikes.com
www.ridley-bikes.com

As the bicycle sponsor of World Tour Team Lotto-Belisol, this is a top level brand. There’s a showroom for press and dealers, where the newest collection is shown. Ridley has its own paintshop and assembly hall. No production of frames.

STAY IN A CYCLING ACCOMMODATION

Apart from the bike friendly accommodations mentioned in the general part of this brochure, we want to highlight some places to stay that breathe cycling, are beautifully located in ‘cycling territory’ or host pro-teams almost every year. Check this one out:

Hotel Malpertuus ***
Tongersesteenweg 145, 3770 Riemst
+32 12 45 15 38
info@malpertuus.be www.malpertuus.be

Hotel Malpertuus was established 40 years ago by Yvo Molenaers when he retired after a successful career as a professional cyclist. Today, Hotel Malpertuus remains a welcoming hotel with 29 luxury rooms in which both tourists and business guests can feel at home. Yet, cyclists are only interested in one room: room 11. If you sleep in that room, you win. It’s as simple as that. In the past, Moreno Argentin slept here, he won Liege-Bastogne-Liege four times and the Flèche Wallonnie three times. Mario Cipollini slept in room 11 when he became world champion in Zolder (2002). And it goes on: in 1997, 1998 and 1999 Michele Bartoli was sleeping in the room and look: the Italian won Liège-Bastogne-Liège four times and the Flèche Wallonnie (1997, 1998) twice and the Flèche Wallonnie (1999) once. In 2012 and 2013 roommates Joaquim Rodriguez and Daniel Moreno (Katusha) won the Flèche Wallonnie and – of course – spent the night in room 11 …

Café Coureur Recommended
Daaleindestraat 52, 3720 Kortessem
hello@cafecoureur.cc
http://cafe-coureur.myshopify.com
This café is just what a cycling café should be:
1. All cyclists are welcome (even the most muddy and soaked ones)
2. Each cyclist will be treated to a ‘Madeleineke’ mini cake
3. If there’s a race on TV, they will certainly show this, no one can do anything about that
4. They count with seven bicycle beers on the menu: Kwaremont, Malteni blond, Malteni white, amber Malteni, Cyclist, Orvélo Tripel and Orvélo Drome
5. The decor of the café = an ode to cycling
6. There are plenty of books on cycling
7. And on top of it all: all tough cycling stories are more than welcome here!

Cycling pub De Kriekel
Sint Jozefsplein 2, 3980 Tessenderlo
+32 496 68 29 89
www.wielercafe-dekriekel.be
The cycling bar is ideal for enjoying a drink in a unique cycling decor. Caution ...before you know it, you’ll be seated next to a well-known cycling hero. In addition to enjoying the cycling interior, you can also enjoy the chef’s cooking at very reasonable prices. Uniquely, all dishes are adapted to the cycling year.

Fietsbar
Minderbroedersstraat 54, 3500 Hasselt
+32 484 61 96 62
hallo@fietsbar.com
www.fietsbar.com
Fietsbar is a bicycle repair centre, a bicycle shop, bar and lunch spot in the centre of Hasselt. Here you can have your bicycle repaired, buy a bicycle or bicycle accessories, enjoy a good coffee, some organic lemonade or a beer and stop for breakfast, a piece of cake or a light lunch.
